In a brainstorming meeting that took place in June 2000, Marcy Fryday and Cheri Smith, in association with the Seabrook Merchant and Tourist Association, agreed that Seabrook needed a project to boost citizen and business enthusiasm as well as attract visitors and tourists. They agreed that the project had to create an identity for Seabrook. When seeing how successful "critter" public art was in other communities, they said "why not?!" The Pelican was the perfect choice as Seabrook is home to hundreds of brown pelicans through the year, and the beautiful white pelicans that migrate from the northern U.S. and Canada during the months of September through April. Many people thought and said "There is no way you will be able to complete such a large project." Talk like this only helped to motivate Marcy and Cheri.

Less than a year later, in March 2001, the six and eight foot larger-than-life pelicans began to populate the streets of Seabrook. Some were whimsical, others focused on Seabrook as a bird sanctuary, and some represented regional attractions such as sports and space exploration. Community support for the project began to grow and soon the pelicans became known not only throughout the region but also nationally.

To date there have been over 40 pelicans created by artists. Some have left Seabrook with their owners, while others have found a resting place at the Marcy Fryday Pelican Path park located right next to the Seabrook Community House.

CAROTHERS COASTAL GARDENS of Seabrook

RENT CAROTHERS & SHARE THE Seabrook LOVE

Carothers Coastal Gardens is a city-owned event venue that sits on 8.5 acres of beautiful, waterfront property. With a capacity of 150 guests, we can cater from small business meetings all the way up to weddings and company-wide parties.

VERSATILITY

One of the best things about Carothers is its versatility. It's capable of being transformed into pretty much whatever you're imagining. Whether you're planning a small, intimate wedding or a large business retreat, we've got you covered!

AMENITIES

There are two houses on the Carothers property: the main house and the casita (bridal suite). There are a total of four restrooms on the property including one in the main house that's fully ADA compliant. The main house also features a commercial ice machine, a drop-down presentation screen.

CHARM

There aren't any other event venues quite like Carothers Coastal Gardens. It was built as a family home and all the love and warmth shows through in the wonderful details. There's something new and delightful to discover around every corner!

COME ON DOWN AND SHARE THE Seabrook LOVE

Seabrook, Texas is all about Love, and we show that in many different ways. In Seabrook we Love good food, we Love good times, and most of all, we Love our community.

BIRD WATCHING
Seabrook is a birding sanctuary on one of the largest migratory paths in North America with over 291 species of birds identified. We're on the Great Texas Coastal Birding Trail and have designated sites along Todville Road.

BOATING
Seabrook has 11 miles of waterfront, including both salt and fresh water. The Clear Lake area is the third largest boating center in the U.S. with 1,250 boat slips in Seabrook alone.

DINING
No matter what kind of cuisine you're in the mood for, we've got you covered! Seabrook has several award winning restaurants and even some that have been featured on national television shows!

PARKS
Seabrook is known for its beautiful park system. With 19 parks covering over 200 acres there is something for everyone!

HIKE & BIKE TRAILS
Seabrook has over 13 miles of majestic hike and bike trails that wind up and down the Galveston Bay shoreline and connect many of the parks in the city.
